Anonymous Calls!

Dear friends and gentle readers; to whom it may concern; friends, enemies and countrymen and all that kind of jazz.

Let me made it abundantly clear that I am not going to let your anonymous letters and phone calls involve me in any kind of a fiasco that pits one class of citizens against another, one race of people against another nor one ideological group against another.

If some of you don't understand what I mean (the anonymous culprits might) let me phrase it another way.

If any of you, and all of you, who want to "tell off the big shots around here," need a mouthpiece or newspaper to sound off with, we are extending a blanket invitation for you to tell it like it is in this newspaper, so long as it is not libelous, and so long as you sign your name, or identify yourself.

You're wasting your valuable time and ours crying because you don't own a newspaper to air your views like we do, and can't speak out like we do. You have a newspaper. What else can we say?

Here at the News there is freedom of the press. We don't refuse your articles because they have appeared somewhere else first; we don't cut your articles when you mention an advertiser who does not do business with us; we don't throw articles in a waste basket because "it might hurt business."

We are a responsible newspaper. We may not come out every day, but when we do our columns are free and open and are, what we view as a mirror of our community life.

So cut out the dramatics. You're not kidding me one bit. I know colors . . . and yellow is not one of my favorites.

The Call About Hubbard!

Of all the anonymous calls I have ever received in my lifetime, and I've received a good many, the one Wednesday morning in the interest of Senator Carroll Hubbard goes beyond the pale for gall and stupidity.

A lady, who would not identify herself, said she was calling from Frankfort. She began her conversation by saying that she was a "member of the . . . party," and that she was told by South Central Bell that I had made two long distance calls Tuesday to the highest ranking Democrats, both oft-mentioned gubernatorial candidates, to advise them that next week we were going to let loose a blistering attack on Senator Hubbard and that "being a member of the . . . party," she was warning us not to do it.

If the person, whose name we deleted for obvious reasons, knew that this kind of infamy was being practiced in his name he would be horrified.

Well, before my temper got to the sizzling point I tried to learn from her when South Central Bell got to monitoring our phone calls, or anybody else's for that matter, and what possible influence the mention of any candidate could have on the editorial and news policy of this newspaper.

By the time the conversation ended I imagine the lady, if she was one, was mighty chagrined at realizing she had been used as a stooge to do somebody else's dirty work.

The truth of the matter is that I did not make the calls. We had no intention of blistering Senator Hubbard next week or this week, though at the moment it does seem like a commendable idea.

I do not charge Senator Hubbard with this chicanery.

I would hope that none of his friends are so stupid as to think I would believe that our calls are being monitored. But, since the lady appeared to be so concerned about Hubbard's welfare, I asked her to deliver a message or two to him, none of which are printable.

Only seasoned politicians can determine the implications of the call. Others couldn't care less.

But Democrats might be interested to know that Hubbard, allegedly a Democrat, was voted by the newspapermen who cover the General Assembly as "the Democratic Senator most valuable to the Republicans."

Nothing wrong with that, except Hubbard may have to run under another party label if he seeks re-election.

Two Students Take Honors In District

Two South Fulton students took top honors Saturday in district contests at Milan's Ellington 4-H Center and one will go on to compete for state honors.

Lynn Brown, eighth grade student of South Fulton Elementary School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Herbert Barker, captured first place award in the junior girls' division of the district public speaking contest for 4-H Clubs of Tennessee. K. M. Winston, principal of the South Fulton school, told the News that this is as high as she will be allowed to compete as a junior, according to State rules, but once in High School she will be allowed to compete all the way for State honors. "Much is expected of her," said Mr. Winston.

Mike Milner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Milner, captured first place award in the 4-H Congress essay contest and now will compete for State honors. Last year, when he was a junior, he won first place in public speaking.

South Fulton's Patty Parrish placed second in the girls' essay contest and Jan Clement, of South Fulton High School, was awarded a red ribbon in the senior division.

The South Fulton 4-H Club is coached by Mrs. Mack Burrow, Junior High English teacher at South Fulton Elementary.

Girl Scouts' 58th Birthday Brings Back Many Memories

On page three of this week's issue the fantastic amount of work and play engaged in by local Girl Scout troops is revealed. A report did not come in from all the troops, but those reporting give a birdseye view of what is being done in all of the Girl Scout work in this area.

The reports sought by the News were in observance of the 58th Anniversary of Girl Scouting in the Nation. The observance last week will bring back some nostalgic memories for many area residents who remember pleasantly the first early days of Scouting in the twin cities.

Through the help of Mrs. Bill Fenwick, who devotes a fantastic amount of her time to Girl Scouting, the News was able to learn that some of the earliest Girl Scout troops were pretty active as far back as 1928, maybe before.

Mrs. Polly Beadles, and others contacted by Mrs. Fenwick say that some of the "little Girl Scouts" back then were such prominent Fultonians as Martha (Moore) Mahan, Totie (Gore) Winters, Ruby Boyd (Alexander) Poe, Adelle (Homra) Intindola, Carolyn (Beadles) Hales, Mabel (Williamson) Mabry and Nell Dawn (Hagler) Brown, now deceased.

Martha Mahan, city editor of the Fulton Daily Leader recalls that the girls called their troop the Wild Rose Patrol. They spent a good many pleasant hours camping, riding and picnicking at Mobley's Campground on County Line Road. "Those were the days," she recalls.

Mrs. Fenwick serves as neighborhood secretary-treasurer, in addition to serving as Cookie Sale Chairman for the past two years.

Today there are an untold number of adult leaders who spend uncountable hours in maintaining the Girl Scout movement in the city. They are the unsung heroines of the community who have seen steered the program through good times and bad.

They deserve every measure of thanks a wholesome community, such as the twin cities, can extend to them.

Mrs. Poe, who is now serving as Neighborhood Chairman has maintained her membership in the Girl Scout move-

Fultonians Give $2,023 To Lions

A report to the local Lions Club from Paducah indicates that the twin Cities of Fulton and South Fulton contributed a total of $2,023.62 to the annual Lions Club Telethon held in Paducah. Hickman's contributions totaled $1,917.50; Water Valley's $544.67, and Dukedom's $333.22.

Checks were presented last week by the Paducah Lions Club to the Crippled Children's Society.

Graves, Clapp Square Off For New Judgeship; Hubbard Took No Stand

With the two representatives directly involved squaring off against each other in spirited floor debate, House Bill 148, which would have divided the first judicial district, was defeated Tuesday by a vote of 42-23.

Rep. Lloyd Clapp of Wingo in Graves County opposed the bill and Rep. Ralph Graves of Bardwell in Carlisle sought its passage. The bill would have placed Graves County in a separate judicial district.

Senator Carroll Hubbard of Mayfield, whose Graves County was directly involved in the new judgeship proposal took no stand on the matter.

It would have left Carlisle, Ballard, Hickman and Fulton in a district of their own.

Graves said the bill, which he sponsored, had strong support in the five-county district. He said the bill was badly needed to ease the load of circuit Judge Wood C. Tipton, who now is judge for all five counties, and, thereby, to step up the "administration of justice."

"I say justice cannot be served when your judge is too busy to make the rounds," he said.

Graves said the annual case load of the district has run close to 500 when the average case load for circuit courts in Kentucky was, at the same time, about 200.

Graves told House members the bill had been proposed at least twice previously and that his bill was the only one voted out of committee.

Clapp said the people of Graves County "don't want this bill."

"It would be irresponsible to force it on a county that does not want it," he said.

Clapp, who publicly opposed

Rep. Denver Knuckles, Republican from Bell County, also spoke against Graves' bill.

He said it would cost $40,000 to "put the new judge in Graves County."

Graves agreed, but pointed out that the money for three

Liberty Store Here Aids Jaycee Drive

An Easter Egg Hunt will again be sponsored this year by the Fulton Jaycees in the City Park at 2 p. m. on Easter Sunday, March 29.

One thousand eggs have been donated by Liberty Supermarket in South Fulton and special prize eggs are being furnished by the Jaycees.

All children ages one through nine are invited to attend this gala event.

South Fulton's Johnny Roberts May Have Pollution Answer

An experiment dealing with pollution brought several awards to Johnny Roberts of South Fulton High School at the West Tennessee Science Fair on Friday, March 13, at Union University in Jackson, Tenn.

Johnny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Roberts, 304 Orchard Drive, South Fulton.

Johnny, a veteran science fair winner, displayed a device he had made, which he said could be used to reduce pollutant in gasoline used in automobiles. The device - composed of a conglomeration of glass tubes, plumbing pipe, beakers and other scientific paraphernalia - could be used in reducing pollutants in gasoline while it is being refined, said the tenth grader. "I decided on this experiment because I was interested in pollution and chemistry," said the youth, who hopes to become an industrial chemist.

The project he entered last year, dealing with the effects of pollution, won him first place in the Junior Division.

This year he won the United States Navy Cruise Award and the Aviation Association of America Award presented by the Air Force for his exhibit. His prize is a two-weeks Navy cruise to the Bahamas.

Sponsored by various community organizations and industries throughout the area, the annual event gives these students an opportunity to conduct experiments and display their findings in areas of biology, physics, chemistry, medical science, mechanics psychology, engineering and aeronautics and space science.

Dr. Perry Retires, But Remembers The Pull And Grind Of Dentistry

(by Paul Westpheling)

Dr. L. A. Perry, a native of Greenfield, Tenn. who came to Fulton in 1932 to open a practice of Dental Surgery here, has retired from his practice after 38 years in his office over the City National Bank building on Lake Street.

"As a matter of fact," he told this reporter, "I was the first to go in to the City National Bank building offices, which were remodeled at that time . . . and I have been there continuously for the past 38 years."

When asked something of his lifetime of work spent here, Dr. Perry's first words were "First of all I want to say that I am indeed grateful for the continuing patronage that the people of Fulton and surrounding territory have shown me; without their help I could not have made the success that I have. My motto has always been to 'strive to do the next job better than I have ever done before, and to always treat each patient as I would have him treat me.'"

"And anything you say about me, please include Mrs. Perry, who has worked with me for at least 35 of our years here, and is my 'left hand' as my dental assistant."

The story of Dr. and Mrs. Perry is an interesting one.

Born September 4, 1903 as Lloyd Alexander Perry in Greenfield, Tennessee, he is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Perry of that community. Elsie Perry is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Milton Williamson, also of Greenfield. Not only did Dr. Perry and his wife attend the privately-operated Greenfield Training School together, but also their respective parents attended the same school together. Lloyd and Elsie were married in Greenfield in 1927, and at that time he was a full-time carpenter.

One day, one of his good family friends approached him and told him that he would probably be driving nails at 25c an hour for the rest of his life unless he made up his mind to get more education. "Furthermore," his wise friend told him, "one of these days soon there is going to be a big depression, and the need for education and training in some skill is going to be more important to you than ever."

When he confessed to his friend that he had no money to get more education, the gentleman agreed on the spot to advance him enough funds to get it, and that he did.

Lloyd Alexander Perry decided in December 1927 to quit carpenter work and go study to become a dentist. He completed his professional education at the University of Tennessee, Memphis, and in 1932 came to Fulton to begin his practice.

The year 1932 was the depths of the great depression. "My gross income from June to December 31 of that year was only $247.00," Dr. Perry smilingly recalled, but added that Fulton was a good community, with many fine people. "If you just stay here long enough to wear out one pair of shoes, you will always want to come back," he added.

"My dental chair in my office is within three inches of where a dental chair has stood for the past 36 consecutive years. I bought my original equipment from Mrs. Scruggs, widow of the late Dr. J. C. Scruggs, a well-known dentist

AFTER 38 YEARS, THE SIGN COMES DOWN: Dr. L. A. Perry retired from his dental practice here this month, and removes his sign from the stair entrance to his office over the City National Bank in Fulton.

Newspaper Writer Appraises Leadership Of Wendell Ford During General Assembly

The resignation of former Governor Bert T. Combs from his Federal judgeship has thrown a good many political writers into something of a tailspin trying to determine if there are any political implications attached to the resignation.

The hope of a second term for Combs has been carefully nurtured by a loyal band of the ex-governor's former associates for many months. The rumor of a Combs candidacy has cropped up in every major political race since Combs left the Governor's office.

But to link his resignation (right before the last week of the Kentucky General Assembly) with a calculated plan to run for a second term is a matter that only time and political circumstances can determine.

We would hope that neither Lt. Governor Wendell Ford nor any of the other Democratic hopefuls officially announce for any office before an assessment can be made of the situation regarding state-wide support, organization, financing and most important of all the calibre and vote-getting ability of the candidate the Republicans may be grooming for the governor's office next year.

In this light it is interesting to view the record and accomplishments of the Democratic leadership in the General Assembly under the titular leadership of hard-working, conscientious, able and extremely dedicated Wendell Ford.

A fellow newspaper associate, and a close political observer, Bill Powell of the Paducah Sun-Democrat appraises the Ford performance in a very knowledgeable manner. He ought to know. He was there almost constantly.

Here's what Bill Powell said in his column recently:

You don't hear too much talk about the next governor's race here — not in the General Assembly area, I mean. Perhaps this is because Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford is the only serious candidate for the Democratic nomination at this time and because the Republicans just aren't talking about the election.

But underneath all that is going on the subject runs deeply, although quietly.

The Ford forces are very busy, but have not overplayed their hand during the legislature. Ford has been in charge of the Senate ship.

Ford has had to bear some crosses—including lukewarm support by some of his party at a time when Democrats should be getting solidly behind someone.

The Democrats may not be making a spectacular mark but it seems to me they have tried as hard as anyone could to carry the burden of the majority party in a time when the leadership has shifted to them from the governor's office.

Examine the record closely and you'll see that Ford and Julian Carroll and the others have done a pretty dignified and capable job of running the General Assembly — with a lot of things being done precisely for the people.

There are lots of things about Ford that the public should already know, but may not.

Sometimes he seems too quiet and too unconvictional to be the great politician.

But the records will show, I think, that Ford has been big, smart and infinitely proper in serving in his strange position of Democratic lieutenant governor under a Republican governor. A smaller man—a headline-struck politician—could have caused all sorts of commotion in his office. He could have drawn attention of the entire state to him in a day-in-and-day-out hassle with the governor, for whatever that would have been worth.

But from the day he was inaugurated, when he promised the people of Kentucky that he would not be a rebel that would keep the governor from stepping outside the state, he has behaved tremendously well.

I don't mean that he has bowed down to the governor—the newspaper files show that he hasn't missed many good chances to assert himself. But his sashays into the arena opposite Nunn and the Republican party have, in my way of thinking, been timely, properly restrained and well thought out.

Soon it will be time for the Democratic party to decide upon its strategy for the next election. I think the favored candidates of the Democrats in the primary of May, 1971, will be Ford for governor and Rep. Terry McBrayer of Greenup for lieutenant governor.

This isn't shoving House Speaker Julian Carroll aside. He has never been considered for lieutenant governor with Ford; it would be a political blunder, I suppose, to have both main candidates from the same part of the state.

Carroll is rising politically; he has done an excellent job during the session. A less-adept speaker could have, by a few untimely blunders, been a punching bag by now. But Carroll is riding high; he has the deep respect of the House and can get things done, as he has shown by his work on the bail-bond measure, time, fire district legislation, the Clark's River Watershed bill and, above all, the revision of the governor's budget to squeeze out some more pay for the teachers.

But Carroll, in spite of the marks he has made that should help anyone interested in the 1971 governor's race, is looking to the next year. No doubt he will be big in the Democratic bid for United States senator—for the position Sen. John Sherman Cooper says he will vacate.

For the Democrats, Bert T. Combs is the question mark. Old pros of the party do not believe he'll run for governor any more than the old pro Republicans believe, down deep, that Cooper will come back to ride a white horse to the governorship of Kentucky.

The Ford forces would love to see some kind of endorsement by Combs for Ford—whatever endorsement a federal judge is permitted to make under the Hatch Act.

POET'S CORNER

EMPTYES COMING BACK

Have you ever sat by the railroad track
And watched the emptys coming back?
Lumbering along with a groan and a whine, -
Smoke strung out in a long gray line
Belched from the painting engine's stack -
Just emptys coming back.
I have - and to me the emptys seem Like dreams I sometimes dream -
Of a girl or money - or maybe fame -
My dreams have all returned the same,
Swinging along the homebound track -
Just emptys coming back.

BY LUCY DANIEL

Books are no substitute for living, but they can add immeasurably to its richness. When life is absorbing, books can enhance our sense of its significance. When life is difficult, they can give us momentary release from trouble or a new insight into our problems, or provide the rest and refreshment we need. Books have always been a source of information, comfort, and pleasure for people who know how to use them. This is true for children as well as for adults.

A few new books received this week which would interest children and adults are:

LOOK BACK WITH LOVE by Alberta Hannum. A loving recollection of all that is good and desirable in the mountain character. Adult fiction.

SECRET FILE, by Hank Messick. An excellent account of the Intelligence Division of the Internal Revenue Service. Adult non-fiction.

THE SHIVERING SANDS, by Victoria Holt. This new novel by the modern mistress of romantic suspense is set on the coast of Kent, at a great estate overlooking the infamous quicksands that have swallowed entire ships unfortunate enough to sail into them. Adult fiction.

STARMAN'S QUEST by Robert Silverberg. An inventive science-fiction novel with real human interest complications. Adult fiction.

AMERICA'S HORSES AND PONIES, by Irene Brady. A book of interest to all Kentuckians—a presentation of the horse; its history and development into various breeds, all beautifully illustrated. Grades 6-up. Non-fiction.

BOYS ARE BOYS, by Albert Tibbets. A series of stories from countries across the world, stories centered around a central theme: boys are boys everywhere despite their backgrounds. Grades 7-9. Non-fiction.

grounds. Grades 7-9. Non-fiction.

DAVE'S SONG, by Robert McKay. A unique novel about contemporary teenagers and their efforts to retain their individualism in a conformist society. Grades 7-up. Fictional.

THE KENNEDY BROTHERS, by Alfred Steinberg. A presentation of the four Kennedy brothers; their lives, their influence and the part they played in the most famous political dynasty America has ever known. Grades 7-9 Non-fiction.

MOM! I BROKE MY ARM, by Angelika Wolff. Steven finds that a broken arm not only is not a dreadful experience but is one that can provide new adventures and knowledge. Pre-school-4. Non-fiction.

PIGS AND PIRATES by Barbara Walker. A Greek fairy tale retold with fanciful and amusing illustrations. Grade 24. Non-fiction.

SOMEONE SMALL, by Barbara Borack. A small bird helps a child adjust to growing up and to accept death. Pre-school. Easy.

THE STORY OF A SINGU-

LAR HEN AND HER PECULIAR CHILDREN, by Mary Stolz. A hen without chicks suddenly finds herself a mother of a large group of barnyard youngsters, but unfortunately none of them are chickens. Pre-school-3. Easy.

TEMPLE ON A HILL, by Anne Rockwell. The Parthenon in Athens is one of the most famous historical sites in the world. This volume presents the story of the parthenon, its conception and its significance in terms of Greek society. Grades 4-6. Non-fiction.

TEEN-AGER'S MENU COOKBOOK by Charlotte Adams. The cooking novice of any age will welcome these step-by-step directions for the preparation of complete meals. Grades 7-up. Non-fiction.

BETTER HOMES AND GARDENS GUIDE TO ENTERTAINING. This book covers areas of planning a party, party themes, anytime-party time, special occasion parties, holiday parties, special situation entertaining, table settings and centerpieces, entertaining etiquette, party games and recipes for entertaining. This is a well rounded book that will be welcomed by all hostesses. Adult non-fiction.

Orest Eugene Intindola of Nutley, N. J. The impressive double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Perry L. Stone, pastor of the church. Miss Amaline Homra was bridesmaid and Mrs. Al T. Owens was matron of honor. Both are sisters of the bride. Little Judy Owens, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Nick Intindola, of Nutley, N. J., served his brother as best man. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was given by Mr. and Mrs. Al T. Owens for the wedding party and immediate members of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Intindola left Sunday night for a wedding trip in Florida. They will make their home in Nutley, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Homra were hosts to a lovely reception, given at the Strata Club Sunday afternoon, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Intindola, who were married Sunday morning, and Mr. and Mrs. David Homra, who were recently married. Dancing was enjoyed during the afternoon. Three hundred and fifty guests attended the lovely affair.

Jim Bushart was honored with a theatre party on his seventh birthday Saturday afternoon, given by his mother, Mrs. Harry L. Bushart. The guests were a group of his school friends.

Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford

ANSWERS

THE PEOPLE

Your questions relating to the Commonwealth of Kentucky will be answered. Write Governor Ford at Frankfort, Ky.

Telegram to Lt. Gov. Wendell Ford: In two short hours we were able to obtain the following list of people who are vitally interested in passage of HB 255 and 256, relating to children with learning disabilities. Please help.

Signed: Mrs. Pelham McMurry, Paducah, Ky., and 52 other parents.

Dear Mrs. McMurry: I'm glad to help on this and so are many legislators.

There's growing concern for the ten per cent of children who apparently have disorders in basic processes which hinder their understanding, speaking or writing. These disorders have such causes as brain injury, perceptual handicaps and a tricky problem with a tricky name—dyslexia.

These children can't learn to read, write, spell or figure through usual classroom procedures. Such children aren't retarded, but they do need special training.

Fortunately, other teaching methods can overcome these problems. Taught by these methods (which emphasize the sense of touch, etc.), many become honor students and go on to good careers.

HB 255 and 256 acknowledge Kentucky's responsibility to teach these children and clear the path to bring them out of the shadows.

Sincerely,
Wendell Ford
Lieutenant Governor

Note to Editor: While this was being mimeographed, these two bills (HB-255 and HB 256) reached a vote in the Senate and have now passed—two good bills becoming laws.

W. H. F.
Dear Mr. Ford: I'm disappointed that the Legislature has not given school teachers the full $600 salary increase requested by the Kentucky Education Association. Living costs go up for Kentucky's 32,000 teachers just as for everyone else. Do you think we have a chance of getting the full $600 raise this session? Tell the truth.

Mrs. R. L. S., Covington, Ky
Dear Mrs. S.: Telling the truth — no.
The Governor's budget submitted in January for the next two years included zero increase for teachers. Favoring improvement in teachers' salaries so far as practical, the Democratic leadership worked out a substitute budget that includes a $200 raise for teachers ($200 for the first year; and an additional $100 for the second year). This costs $15,600,000. To get this money, we trimmed some other items and raised the tax on whiskey. The Legislature voted approval, and this $300 raise is assured.

Still asking the full $600, KEA chose to strike. It's unfortunate. The attitude of the Legislature, reflecting the general public attitude, is that this session will not enact further taxes.

Teachers also want the Legislature to authorize some new fringe benefits such as the right to negotiate with school boards. While teachers are on strike a cloud dims even this possibility.

I hope that by the time you read this letter, teachers are back in the classroom and children are in school. When that occurs, I believe the Legislature will consider in order to fashion the merits of the teachers' fringe benefit requests.

Sincerely,
Wendell Ford
Lieutenant Governor

Dear Jo and Paul:

Just a note to let you know that, as of today, my work in Cincinnati is finished. I'll be returning home Sunday.

So my "new" address will be Route 7, Owensboro, 42301.

As you might well imagine, I really do appreciate being able to keep up on the latest developments in and around Fulton.

My brother, Clark, and I are planning now to go to South America for about a month. Maybe we'll meet some of your friends.

Stay well. And give my regards to everyone — especially to "immediate kin!"

Homemakers For Fulton County Attending State-wide Meeting

"Reaching Toward Tomorrow" will be the theme of the Kentucky Homemakers Association annual meeting in Lexington, March 19-20, according to Mrs. Catherine Thompson, County Extension Agent.

Mrs. Thompson said today that 14 Homemakers from Fulton County are planning to attend this two-day conference at the University of Kentucky. They are: Mrs. Truman Benthall, Mrs. Henry Boosenberg, Mrs. W. C. Tipton, Jr., Mrs. Bill Holland, Mrs. Roy M. Taylor, Mrs. Neal Little, Mrs. Ermon Workman, Mrs. Tommy Bondurant, Mrs. Billy P. Threlkeld, Mrs. Wayne Lawrence, Mrs. Johnny P. Wilson, Mrs. Charles Powell, Mrs. Clyde Fields, and Mrs. Catherine Thompson.

Major speakers for the meeting will be Dr. Walter L. Thomas, nationally-known lecturer and researcher on young people and their values, and Miss Margaret Oliver, program leader of the Division of Home Economics, Federal Extension Service, Washington, D. C.

Another highlight of the program will be the kick-off of the Homemakers' membership drive, with April designated as "Join Homemakers' Month."

The annual meeting opens Thursday morning, March 19, with the Association business session at which Mrs. Earl Friedly, Georgetown, State Association President, will preside. Dr. John Ragland, UK's associate dean for Extension, will bring greetings to the group during this section of the program.

The afternoon program includes Miss Oliver's presentation on "The Time and the Season"; talks by Dr. Doris Tichenor, UK Assistant Director of Extension for Home Economics, and Dr. Betty Jean Brannan, Dean of the UK School of Home Economics; and presentation of the two Master Farm Homemakers for 1969.

At the Thursday night session, UK President Otis A. Singletary will address the group and a program of music will be presented by the Kentucky Homemakers' Chorus. Emphasis on the Homemakers' membership drive also will be a part of the program.

Friday morning's program opens with a talk by Dr. Charles E. Barnhart, Dean of the College of Agriculture and Director of the Cooperative Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Kentucky. Mrs. Louis B. Nunn, Kentucky's First Lady, then will address the group on "Preservation for Tomorrow." Dr. Thomas' talk on "Values and American Youth" will close the morning session.

Concluding the conference program will be a luncheon on Friday. Mrs. Wesley Naye of Louisville, best known as Mary Beth Naye, hostess of the "Talk of the Town" show on WKY-TV, Channel 32, will be the luncheon speaker.

Busy Girl Scouts Have A Birthday Party

A birthday party is a happy day at any age. Here Rene Clark, Melissa Jeffries, Rene Yates and Sandra Thompson watch as Melissa cuts the pretty cake observing the 58th anniversary of Girl Scouting.

Mrs. Bill Fenwick, left, and Mrs. J. A. Poe are shown here with Field Director Mary Caudill as they serve the many Girl Scouts who attended the party last Thursday afternoon.

Murray Seniors Are Practice Teaching Here

A total of 258 Murray State University seniors are doing their student teaching assignments in more than 100 Kentucky and Tennessee elementary and secondary schools during the first nine weeks of the spring semester, Dr. Donald A. Jones, chairman of the Department of Educational Services at the University, has announced.

Another 152 will complete their assignments during the second nine weeks of the term, he said. The first nine weeks end on March 27, while the second ends June 5.

Fourteen others, who will be student teaching on a half-day basis, will be in their assigned schools for the full 18 weeks of the spring term.

The student teachers assigned to schools in Fulton County for their first nine weeks, the subjects they are teaching and their hometowns are as follows:

Fulton County High School: Health and P. E., John R. Pruitt, Clinton; and History, Wayne W. Lohaus, Fulton.

Western Elementary School: Grade 1, Alice Makin, Tiptonville, Tenn.

Area Students Graduate From Murray State

Another record mid-year class was graduated from Murray State University at the close of the fall semester.

Forty-one students were awarded master's degrees and 362 undergraduates earned bachelor's degrees. The previous record was 31 master's degrees and 344 bachelor's degrees last year.

No formal mid-year graduation exercise is held at Murray State. Students who complete degree requirements get their diplomas by mail. They may return at the end of the spring semester in June to participate in the commencement ceremonies.

Those graduating from Fulton County were: Gregory Leon Bransford, Michael Lynn Crider, Margaret Jean Everett, Bonnie Sue Goodman, John Ray Hunter, Sylvia Carden Partin, Mary Mitchell Powell, George Bernard Shaw, Richard Lee Statham, and James Chester Turner.

Others graduating from this area were: Nancy Carol Cunningham, of Dukedom, Tenn., and Michael Earl Hamilton of South Fulton, Tenn.

Cadette Troop No. 50

Our first official act as Cadettes was during the Banana Festival last September when we, in cooperation with other local girl scout troops, manned a booth at downtown Cabana City, our purpose being to explain girl scouting to anyone interested and to invite them to register at our booth.

One day last fall while the sun was still uncomfortably warm, we met at the Glyn Bard farm. While our leaders guarded the refreshments and relaxed underneath a "spreading" oak tree, we hiked up and down a dusty, sun-drenched lane. This trial hike was to limber us up for a far-reaching hike at Shiloh Park and to gauge our hiking speed.

A few weeks later we made it to Shiloh Park and hiked the Fourteen-Mile Military Trail. Though our frisky, early morning pace had slowed to a tired trudge long before noon, after a light lunch and an interesting 30-minute movie of the Shiloh Civil War battles, we were refreshed and soon going again. The markers and monuments along the trail gave us many interesting historical facts.

It was during the Banana Festival that our troop became interested in plastic arts. Since we wanted to earn a badge not included in our handbook, we decided this could be it. So for several weeks we met at the Fulton High School Industrial Arts Building with Mr. Bill Robertson so he could instruct us upon working with plastics. Thus, Our Own Troop's Plastic Arts Badge became a reality. We had chosen its name, created its requirements, and designed it. We were the first troop in our neighborhood to develop our own special badge.

As our service project we made "Praying Hands" from white paper, glued them onto blue construction-paper folders, then at Christmas we visited the Fulton Hospital and presented them to the patients.

For Operation Santa Claus we baked our own cookies, decorated the cans, packed and sealed them.

One evening before Christmas we bundled up, lit our candles, and went caroling. Later, we enjoyed a lovely Christmas

Brownie Troop No. 235

Brownie Troop 235 meets at the South Fulton Baptist Church, with Mrs. Richard Lewis and Mrs. Ben Donaldson as leaders.

They have spent this year doing various projects. At Christmas time they made cookies for Operation Santa Claus. Christmas candles were made for their mothers and cuff link boxes for their fathers. During World Friendship Week they studied about Brownies in other countries. They also learned a few foreign words and some games from other countries.

For Valentine Day they made red felt pin cushions, trimmed with white lace. "Sit upons" were made to carry on trips. They also learned to set the table properly and practiced good table manners.

A visit to the Pepsi-Cola plant was very interesting.

Selling Brownie cookies and calendars was also one of the projects of this year.

Cadette Troop No. 182

Cadette Troop 182 of the Fulton Girl Scouts is sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club. This troop meets at the First United Methodist Church and has a membership of 17 girls, ages 13 through 15. The leaders are: Mrs. W. L. Jolley, Jr., Mrs. Jim Owens and Mrs. Joe Weaver Hill.

Most of these girls have been Scouts for five years, having started out as Brownies. They are very dedicated and enjoy helping in their community. They enjoy camping and have participated in Cadettes On The Go. The Workshop at Murray State University and plan to attend the Cadette Hike Weekend at the Land Between the Lakes May 1, 2nd and 3rd, where they will have experts to show them bird banding, nature lore and a demonstration of the furnace. These girls have completed the Challenge of Active Citizenship, The Challenge of Social Dependability and will soon complete the Challenge of Emergency Preparedness.

Two of our girls have been selected to participate in the Wyoming Trek. Gigi Brock and Pattie Jolley will leave Camp Bear Creek with thirty other girls on July 23rd as part of a Council Trip to the new Center West, which just opened last summer near Ten Sleep, Wyoming. The girls will spend one week at Center West and will also make side trips to Mount Rushmore and Yellowstone National Park.

All of these girls appreciate the help of the fine people in this community. We feel that they are and will continue to be a credit to Fulton.

COFFEE CUP CHATTER

A modern kitchen is much more than a room to house the range, refrigerator and sink. It's cheerful, highly attractive, and a room many families enjoy using at times other than when meals are being prepared or served. In planning a new kitchen or a remodeling project, family preference should be taken into consideration regarding inclusion of space for dining, informal entertaining extra storage such as utility cabinets; areas for laundry, sewing, meal planning, etc. Extra space and special area requirements should be planned while the overall kitchen layout is being developed.

An attractive folding screen can be covered with the same floor covering you use on your floor. Attach either carpeting or hard floor covering to panels of plywood and hinge them together. This will create a very dramatic corner to your room by carrying the color and design almost to the ceiling.

If your electric bill is higher in the winter, fewer daylight hours are only one reason, the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reminds homeowners.

Using five 100-watt bulbs for two extra hours a day will up your bill slightly, but it's the other electrical units you use in winter that account for most of the increase, according to USDA's Rural Electrification.

The blower on your furnace probably uses about 40 kilowatt hours a month and its electric control another eight. And you might use a 12-watt electric heater, and be adding on another 200 to 400 kw.

Now that the weather keeps you indoors, you're probably spending more time watching television. An extra hour of TV viewing each day might consume an additional 100 kw a month.

Operating your oven during the day and electric blankets at night will consume even more electricity in the winter months.

All of this could increase your electric as much as $7.00 a month, December through March.

Did you eat breakfast this morning? If your answer is "no," then you're probably short-changing yourself on both nutrients and calories.

You need a good breakfast to supply energy after the long night's fast. Even with a late snack at night, energy is almost gone by morning.

DEATHS

Mrs. Artie Pflueger Miss Lena McKeen

Mrs. Artie Pflueger died Wednesday, March 11, at her home in Dresden.

Funeral services were held on Friday afternoon, March 13th, in the New Hope Baptist Church, with burial in the church cemetery. Jackson Funeral Home of Dukedom was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Pflueger was 60 and a native of Weakley County, Tennessee.

Surviving are four sons, Larry Pflueger of Dresden, Robert and Tommy Pflueger of Martin, and Darrell Pflueger of Watsonville, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Tansil Puckett of Dresden; one brother, Ode Smith of Mayfield, and seven grandchildren.

Miss Lena May McKeen died Monday, March 16, in Haws Memorial Nursing Home, where she was transferred following a fall.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, March 18, in Hornbeak Funeral Home chapel, with Rev. George Comes, minister of the First United Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Greenlea Cemetery.

Miss McKeen, 98 and a resident of Fulton for almost eighty years, was born in Dresden, the daughter of the late Dr. John Doak and Laura Taylor McKeen. She moved to Fulton in the 1890's and made her home with her sister, Mrs. Lynn Taylor and family. Since her sister's death, she has lived with her nieces, Mrs. Alex Leneave of Fulton, Mrs. G. W. Williams of Mayfield, and Mrs. William Darden of Raton, N. M.

She was the oldest member of the First United Methodist Church in Fulton, was a member of the Susannah Wesley Sunday School Class and the Woman's Society of Christian Service and was a regular attendant until recently. For many years she was employed in various stores in Fulton.

Surviving are four nieces, Mrs. Alex Leneave of Fulton, Mrs. G. W. Wilson of Mayfield, Miss Laura Mae McKeen of Memphis, and Mrs. William Darden of Raton, N. M.; two nephews, Sterling McKeen Bennett of Fulton, and Allyn McKeen of Montgomery, Ala.; three great nieces, one great nephew, and several great-grand-nephews and nieces.

LATHAM Mrs. W. C. Morrison

Aunt Izzie Foster has been ill for the past two weeks. Her daughter, Mrs. Truman Watts, of Detroit, is with her.

Oscar Leggins has been indisposed for several days. He was able to be out Saturday.

Latham and surrounding community were shocked and grieved at the tragic passing of Mrs. Artie Pflueger last Wednesday at her home. Death was caused by a self-inflicted gun shot. She leaves four sons, Darrell Pflueger of Watsonville, Calif., Robert and Thomas of Martin and Larry of Dresden; one sister, Mrs. Tansil Puckett of Latham; a brother, Ode Smith of Mayfield, and seven grandchildren. Services were held at 2 p. m. in the New Hope Baptist Church, with Rev. Gerald Stow officiating, with interment in the church cemetery by Jackson Funeral Home of Dukedom.

Raymond McNatt is recuperating nicely, being able to drive his car, after having surgery on his feet in the Veterans Hospital at Memphis recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thomas and Mrs. Mollibet Simpson visited Mrs. Ima Harvey over the week end and report she is some better.

Chess Morrison remains about the same. His visitors were Baron Dixon, Mrs. Hillman Westbrook, Mrs. Terry Bethel, Mr. and Mrs. Orvon Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vaughan and Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Cummings.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bonds, of St. Louis, and Mrs. Brewer, of Martin, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Dortch in Latham last Sunday.

Mrs. Z. C. Wheeler was carried to the doctor Sunday morning and is reported to have the flu.

Luke Harvey, of Nashville, but formerly from this community, entered Vanderbilt Hospital for surgery for varicose veins on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Griffith, of Detroit, attended church at Bible Union Church of Christ last Sunday. They are visiting his sisters, Mrs. Wayne Laws of Latham and Mrs. W. D. Winstead of Dukedom.

Miss Carolyn Weaks

Funeral services for Miss Carolyn Faye Weaks were held Friday afternoon, March 13, in Hornbeak Funeral Home chapel, with Rev. James Holt and Rev. Tommy Perkins officiating. Burial was in Johnson Grove Cemetery.

Miss Weaks, 20, died on Wednesday afternoon, March 11, at her home in South Fulton, following a long illness.

She was born in Fulton, the daughter of Floyd and Verna Cleveland Weaks and had been a resident of South Fulton all her life. She was a member of the Johnson Grove Baptist Church.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by one sister, Mrs. Ruth Garner of Martin and three half-sisters, Mrs. Sue Killen of Inks'er, Mich., Mrs. Marie Griggs of Atlanta and Mrs. Ann Chapman of Martin.

Mrs. T. J. Smith

Mrs. Frances Pearl Smith died Friday morning, March 13, in the Fulton Hospital, following an extended illness.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon, March 15, in Hornbeak Funeral Home chapel, with Rev. James Best, minister of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Greenlea Cemetery.

Mrs. Smith, 82, was the daughter of the late Francis Marion and Frances Rucker Sutton, and was born in Curve, Tenn. She was the widow of T. J. Smith, an Illinois Central employee. She made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Howard Adams at 305 Second Street in Fulton. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

In addition to Mrs. Adams, she is survived by another daughter, Miss Anna Watt Smith of Memphis; two sons, T. J. Smith, Jr., and Wick Smith of Fulton; seven grandchildren, four great grandchildren and fifteen nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Eva King

Funeral services for Mrs. Eva C. King were held Monday, March 16, in Hornbeak Funeral Home chapel, with Rev. James Best and Rev. Gerald Stow officiating. Burial was in the Hickman City Cemetery.

Mrs. King, 65, died Saturday morning, March 14, following a heart attack, being pronounced dead on arrival at the Fulton Hospital.

She was a native of Missouri, the daughter of the late James William and Sarah Hillman Rines. Her husband, John Oliver King, preceded her in death in 1957. They had lived in Fulton 28 years, coming here from Hickman.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Opal Wiley and Miss Mary Elizabeth King of Fulton; one son, James William King of Fulton, and two grandchildren, David Lynn Wiley and Bobby Glenn Wiley of Fulton.

Introducing Our Churches-God's Agency For Spreading His Love

Rev. Danny Underwood is the pastor

THE WATER VALLEY METHODIST CHURCH

The Water Valley Methodist Church was organized in 1855 by a group of local merchants and citizens who were unwilling to live and raise their families in a community which did not have a church. The first building was used for forty-eight years. The present building was built in 1903, with an educational department being added in 1962.

Served by thirty-seven pastors, the Water Valley Methodist Church has presented the Christian Gospel to the people of Water Valley and the surrounding community for eighty-one years. Its doors are open today, as they have always been, to anyone wishing to worship God. Sunday School classes are provided for all ages. The Methodist Youth Fellowship, which supports a Korean orphan, and the Woman's Society of Christian Service meet regularly. Everyone takes part in the Worship Services, with the junior choir occasionally singing specials.

WATER VALLEY, KENTUCKY

An atmosphere of Christian warmth and love will be felt as you are welcomed by the congregation each time you have the opportunity to worship God with the members of this Church.

Schedule of Services:

Sunday School 10:00 a. m.
Worship Service 11:00 a. m. 2nd and 4th Sundays
9:00 a. m. 1st and 3rd Sundays

Hillman Westbrook attended the meeting of Memphis Presbyterian CPW last Thursday at Central Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Memphis. Mrs. Garret Bailey also made the trip, but spent the day with her daughter, Mrs. Bill Shelton, and children.

Jimmie Clapp was honored with a 15th birthday supper, prepared by his grandmother, Mrs. Grace Armstrong, March 12. Those enjoying the supper with him were Roger Hastings, David Matz, Sharon and Cathy Tibbs. He received a number of cards and nice gifts.

Mrs. A. C. Bell was moved from Fulton Hospital to Haw's Nursing Home Saturday, where she is receiving treatment for an injury to her back.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Bailey Sunday were: Mrs. Lorene Rushing and Lillian Newton of Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. John Mathis and Mrs. Carl Medlin of Sedalia; Andy and Miss Rachel Mathis of Farmington; and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shelton, Valerie and Rob of Memphis. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will leave Tuesday for Detroit, where he will be employed.

The surprise at Good Springs last Sunday was a "This Is Your Life" program, put on by the Young Adults, honoring Mrs. Winnie Cunningham, whom all of us love and appreciate.

INVITATION FOR BIDS

The City of Fulton (acting for the Board of Education), Fulton, Kentucky, will receive bids for the construction of a new High School until 7:30 P. M. CST, on March 31, 1970, at the Fulton City Board of Education Office, Fulton, Kentucky, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read aloud, with the said Board acting as the agent of the said City for such opening and reading. The Project consists of a new High School Building containing six general classrooms, seven specialized classrooms, administrative offices, kitchen, gymnasium, locker rooms, and other service and storage areas.

Proposed forms of the Contract Documents including Plans, and Specifications are on file at the office of Peck Associates, Inc., 801 Citizens Bank Building, Paducah, Kentucky, and may be obtained after February 27, 1970.

Copies of the Contract Documents may be obtained by General Contractors by depositing $100.00 with the Architect for each set. Bid deposit will be refunded to each Bidder who returns Plans, Specifications, and other Documents in good condition to the Architect by April 13, 1970.

Copies of the documents will also be on file at the following plan rooms:

F. W. Dodge Corporation
Louisville, Kentucky
Evansville, Indiana
St. Louis, Missouri
Nashville, Tennessee
Memphis, Tennessee
Associated General Contractors

Memphis, Tennessee
Paducah, Kentucky

A satisfactory bid bond executed by Bidder and of acceptable sureties in an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the bid shall be submitted with each bid.

The successful Bidder will be required to furnish and pay for satisfactory Performance Bond and Labor and Material Payment Bond in the amount of 100% of the Contract as provided for in the Specifications. Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the Specifications shall be paid on this project. Payroll accounting will be inspected by the architect.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding. No bid shall be withdrawn for a period of sixty days (60) subsequent to the opening of bids without the consent of the Owner.

CITY OF FULTON, KENTUCKY
NELSON A. TRIPP
MAYOR
BARBARA RICE
CITY CLERK
MARCH 16, 1970

ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF FULTON, KENTUCKY, PROVIDING FOR THE CITY OF FULTON TO COOPERATE WITH THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE FULTON INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT IN CONNECTION WITH THE PROPOSED ISSUANCE OF SCHOOL BUILDING REVENUE BONDS, PURSUANT TO SECTIONS 162.120 THROUGH 162.300 OF THE KENTUCKY REVISED STATUTES, TO FINANCE THE CONSTRUCTION OF A NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING IN THE CITY OF FULTON, THE COST OF WHICH BUILDING IS TO BE DEFRAYED THROUGH THE ISSUANCE OF SAID BONDS; SELECTING AND EMPLOYING THE ARCHITECT FOR THE PREPARATION OF PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS HERETOFORE PREPARED; APPROVING THE EMPLOYMENT CONTRACT OF SUCH ARCHITECT; ACCEPTING THE OFFER OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION TO CONVEY SAID PROPERTY TO THIS CITY AND TO LEASE SAID BUILDING; AND AUTHORIZING THE ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF SAID BUILDING.

WHEREAS, the Board of Education of the Fulton Independent School District, on March 9, 1970, adopted a Resolution requesting the City Commission of the City of Fulton to cooperate with said Board in the issuance of certain School Building Revenue Bonds to finance the construction of a new high school building to be located on a 15 - acre tract on Stephen Beale Drive in the City of Fulton, and

WHEREAS, the Board has requested that the City Commission take certain action of the form hereinafter set out. NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE

CITY OF FULTON, KENTUCKY, DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. That the City Commission of the City of Fulton shall cooperate with the Board of Education of the Fulton Independent School District in every respect in connection with the proposed issuance of City of Fulton School Building Revenue Bonds, pursuant to Sections 162.120 through 162.300 of the Kentucky Revised Statutes, to provide funds to finance the construction of a proposed new high school building on a 15 - acre tract on Stephen Beale Drive in said City, and this City Commission agrees to cooperate with the Board in the advertisement for construction bids, letting of contracts, and any and all other action necessary and desirable in connection with such school building project, pursuant to such procedure as is requested by the Board, in accordance with said Statutes.

SECTION 2. That pursuant to KRS 162.160, and pursuant to the recommendation of the Board of Education, the City Commission does hereby select and employ PECK ASSOCIATES, INC., Architects, P. O. Box 425, Paducah, Kentucky 42001, as the Registered Architect to prepare the plans and specifications for the construction of said school building project, and does further approve the plans and specifications heretofore prepared by said Architect and heretofore approved by said Board.

SECTION 3. That the Mayor and the City Clerk are hereby authorized and directed to execute a contract employing said Architect to supervise the construction of said school building, in addition to the preparation of such plans and specifications, in accordance with such form of Contract as has been approved or as may be approved by said Board of Education.

SECTION 4. That said approved plans and specifications shall be immediately filed in the office of the City Clerk, as required by KRS 162.160.

SECTION 5. That after said duly approved plans and specifications have been filed in the office of the City Clerk, the City Clerk shall advertise for bids for the construction of said school building project in the form previously approved by said Architect and the form of which advertisement is attached to the Minutes of the Meeting at which this Ordinance is enacted and is hereby approved by this City Commission.

SECTION 6. That the City Commission does hereby accept the offer of said Board of Education to convey the site of said proposed new school building to the City and to lease said new school building from the City under a Contract, Lease and Option of the kind provided in KRS 162.140.

SECTION 7. That the City Commission shall, at the time of, or subsequent to, the acceptance of the best construction bid, provide for the advertisement, issuance and sale of a sufficient amount of School Building Revenue Bonds, supplemented by any other funds available, if any, to finance the total cost of said school building project.

SECTION 8. That all motions, resolutions, ordinances or orders, or parts thereof, in conflict herewith, are to the extent of such conflict hereby repealed, and this Ordinance shall take effect and be effective immediately after its enactment and approval. Enacted and approved this 16th day of March, 1970.

NELSON A. TRIPP
Mayor, City of Fulton, Kentucky

BARBARA RICE
City Clerk

I, the undersigned, hereby certify that I am the duly qualified and acting City Clerk of the City of Fulton, Kentucky, that the foregoing Ordinance is a true copy of an Ordinance duly enacted by the City Commission of said City, signed by the Mayor of said City, and attested under Seal by me as City Clerk at a properly convened meeting of said City Commission held on March 16, 1970, as shown by the official records of said City Commission in my custody and under my control, that said Ordinance has been ordered to be published as required by law, and that said Ordinance has been duly recorded in the official City Ordinance Book of said City.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, witness my signature as City Clerk, and the official Seal of said City, this 16th day of March, 1970.

AUSTIN SPRINGS

By Mrs. Carey Fields

Rev. Bobby Copeland filled his regular appointment at New Salem Baptist Church near here the past Sunday at 11 a. m.

Richard Allen Lassiter spent the past week end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Lassiter.

Grover True has improved the past few weeks and was able to attend services at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday, to the delight of all his many friends in this area.

Mrs. Lucille Westbrook returned home the past week, after several weeks visit in Utah with her mother and family. It was her first visit with her relatives in several years.

Mrs. H. Clay McConnell of Chicago arrived Friday for a week end visit with her dad, Will J. Reed, of District No. 17. She will return home Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. Addie Fields will celebrate her 90th birthday Wednesday, March 18, at the home of children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mitchell, in Paducah. Mrs. Fields is about as well as usual and has escaped the colds and flu. She is receiving cards of congratulation, which she enjoys very much.

Mrs. Harvey Donaho returned home from the Baptist Hospital a week ago, where she had vein surgery. She is doing nicely and all friends hope her convalescent days won't be long.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bynum were hosts to their family dinner the past Sunday. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mathis and daughters, Sammie Jane, Liz and Becky; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hawks and Miss Margaret Bynum.

Bro. Dennis Crutchfield filled his regular appointment at Knob Creek Church of Christ the past Sunday at 11 a. m. and also at the evening worship service. Bible School is held at 10 a. m.

The absence of my news items last week was due to the fact that I was in Hollow Rock, Tenn., visiting with my sister, Mrs. Roy Hammett, and Mr. Hammett, who reside on their farm, Hollow Rock-Vale Road. I had a nice visit, the first for some time. The Hammetts have a trip planned for April 3rd, when they will visit in Arlington, Va., house guests of children, Mrs. Kenneth Meadows and little daughters, Kenda and Treasa. Sgt. Meadows is in Saigon, serving a tour of duty in the armed forces. He stays until the first of June and expects to be home again. His first tour was two years in Thailand a few years ago, where his family was with him.

CAYCE NEWS

By Miss Clarice Bondurant

Mrs. Lurline Cruce and Mrs. Virginia Jones attended the Rush Creek Homemakers Club at the home of Mrs. Donald Mabry on Wednesday.

Friday night of last week a shower and tea was given in the Fellowship Hall of the new Methodist Church here. A nice lot of gifts for the new kitchen were given. Mrs. Clem Atwill was the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Levine, of Carbondale, Ill., were Sunday night and Monday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Simpson.

Mrs. Mayme Seacore, who has been a patient in the Baptist Hospital at Memphis, is at home and feeling some better. We wish her a speedy recovery.

James McMurtry is improving nicely, following surgery in the Jackson, Tenn., hospital. We hope he will soon be home and wish him a speedy recovery.

The Birthday Club met with

Mrs. Virginia Jones on February 25th and with Mrs. Emma Brown on March 5th, to help them celebrate their birthdays. Both days were enjoyed and they both received nice gifts. We wish them many more.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Simpson were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Simpson, near Fulton.

Mrs. Woody Shelton, of Crutchfield, spent several days last week with her aunts, Mrs. Mayme Seacore and Mrs. Effie Roper.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Keithly Cruce lost her aunt last week. She lived in Clinton, where the funeral and burial were held. Mrs. Cruce's mother and brother, of Ohio, attended and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Cruce a short while.

10 resounding reasons why you should buy a new Chevrolet instead of a new something else:

- 1 Higher resale value. Year after year. No other car in Chevrolet's field gives you as much back on your initial investment.
- 2 Deep down value. Exclusives like flush-and-dry rocker panels and an extra set of fenders keep Chevrolet looking good longer.
- 3 Smooth, smooth ride. Because of Chevrolet's computer selected springs, Full Coil suspension and advanced body mounting system.
- 4 Impressive styling. The impression is that it's an expensive car, if you want to make an impression.
- 5 Massive interiors. Result? Room to stretch out or to sit tall. Chevrolet has more front leg room than any other car in its field.
- 6 Side-guard beams. Chevrolet puts more between you and the outside. Steel beams built into every door.
- 7 A finish that lasts. It's unfortunate other cars in Chevy's field don't have a Magic-Mirror finish because it sure keeps its shine.
- 8 Exceptional engines. Chevrolet's standard 350-cubic-inch V8 runs on regular fuel. Plus there are five more engines available.
- 9 Tremendous selection. Of colors. Of accessories. Of engines. Of transmissions. Of fabrics. And of models. There are nine big Chevrolets alone.
- 10 America's favorite. Something a new "something else" can't claim. If actions speak louder than words, doesn't this say something to you?

Area Students On Dean's List At Murray U

A total of 931 fall semester students at Murray State University have been listed on the Dean's List to establish a new record high of full-time honor students for the fall term.

Registrar Wilson Gault said the total surpasses the previous mark of 911 students for the fall semester of the last school year. The all-time semester record for the Dean's List was set in the spring of 1969 when 965 students earned that distinction.

Included among those on the honor roll for the fall term are 90 students with a perfect scholastic standing of all A's. Enrollment for the fall semester at Murray State was 7,256.

To be named to the Dean's List at Murray State, a student must make at least a 3.30 grade point average of a 4.00 possibility.

Among those listed from Fulton County are:

Betty J. Beadles, Margaret Everett, Michael Hamilton, Avery L. Hancock, Deborah B. Hawley, Donna C. Howell, Sylvia C. Jetton, Letha E. Langford, Lynne D. Lech, Brenda M. Nanney, Judy A. Olive, Charles Pawlukiewicz, Cheryl Underwood, Donna G. Wall, and Cecelia E. Wright.

No Good At All

Mrs. Skjold—Dear, did you notice the handsome fur coat worn by the young lady in front of us in church today?

Mr. Skjold—No, I'm afraid I didn't. I was dozing most of the time.

Mrs. Skjold—Huh, a lot of good it does you to go to church.

CLASSMATES, schoolday sweethearts and a working team covering a span of nearly 50 years in Greenfield (Tenn.) and in Fulton: Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Perry pause for a moment as they leave their office for the last time. (See story).

Dr. Perry has kept up with advances in his profession with yearly post-graduate courses all through the years. Although he has closed his office here, he stated that he planned to continue work "just a little bit" making examinations for the County Health Department in Hickman.

His hobby, quite naturally, is woodworking, and he expects to be able to give a lot of time to it, especially cabinet-work and furniture.

Dr. and Mrs. Perry, who have no children, live in Fulton at 200 Third Street.

the loss of a valuable citizen.

Gene Williamson was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Williamson of Georgetown, Ky. He came by his love for things agricultural naturally, having been born on a farm; his characteristic of careful planning and vision he got naturally, too, from his mother, who taught school for more than twenty-five years. He finished high school in Scott County and later attended Eastern College at Richmond, Ky., and the University of Kentucky, where he majored in commerce.

His first job in the business world was with the milling firm he represented in Fulton. There he learned the business from the ground up and when the local mill was purchased from the Browners, he was sent here as its manager. The planning, the building, the progress were all dreamed and executed by Gene. His wife remarked that "he eats, sleeps and breathes the milling business" and often when he is addressed at mealtime and an answer was not forthcoming, Mrs. Williamson and the children dismissed the slight, for Gene was probably thinking out an important problem of the mill.

He was a dynamo of energy and a fiend for relaxation. He loved good music, classical and semi-classical and his favorite composer was Chopin. He could listen to the Polonaise for hours on end. He was a director in the Community Concert Association and was greatly instrumental in its organization in Fulton.

When the press of business affairs would ease up a little, he liked to hunt, but there was not an awful lot of hunting. Within the confines of his home he found all the necessities for complete happiness and relaxation... he was truly a family man.

He was married to the former Vivian Luttrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Luttrell of Georgetown. During World War II, he served with the Army Air Corps in the radar division.

He was a member of the First Christian Church, past president of the Chamber of Commerce, past president of the Fulton County Club, member of the Rotary Club, American Legion and Roberts Lodge No. 172, F&AM, and was one of Fulton's most civic minded and popular individuals.

He was active and well-known in grain and feed trade circles and was a charter member of the Mid-South Grain and Soybean Association, which he helped organize and of which he served as president for the past two years.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, March 17, in Hornbeak Funeral Home chapel, with Rev. Ellis Veale, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating. The body was then moved to Georgetown, Ky., where graveside services were conducted on Wednesday afternoon and burial was also there.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Ruth Williamson, of Fulton; his wife and one daughter, Janet, both of Fulton; two sons, Gary Williamson of Frankfort and Greg of Lexington, and one granddaughter, Anna Kristen Williamson of Frankfort.

judgeships had been budgeted this year by Gov. Louie B. Nunn.

Graves answered claims that the population of the two districts wasn't sufficient for two judgeships by saying: "Population is not necessarily the determining factor... the distance a judge must travel is the important factor."

Graves pointed out that Judge Tip'on, commonwealth attorney L. M. Tipton Reed of Mayfield and the first district Bar Association were for the bill.

Another judicial district proposal involving Western Kentucky may go into law at this session. It is Senate Bill 24 sponsored by Sen. Bill Sullivan of Henderson.

The bill would make Henderson County a separate district and put Crittenden, Union and Webster in another district. Crittenden now is in the district with Hopkins and Caldwell. Sullivan's bill would make Hopkins and Caldwell a separate district too, but the shuffling would require only one new judgeship—at Henderson.

It was learned reliably that Gov. Nunn favors Senate Bill 24 and two other bills creating judgeships in Jefferson County.

House Bill 148 would have become law Jan. 1, 1971, with Gov. Nunn making appointments of a Graves County judge and a commonwealth's attorney for the other four counties.

Voters May Decide On Appointment, Rather Than Election Of School Chief

FRANKFORT, Ky.

A proposed constitutional amendment providing for appointment rather than election of the state superintendent of public instruction may gain a place on the 1971 ballot if it meets House approval and is signed by Governor Louie B. Nunn.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. William L. Sullivan, D-Henderson, was passed in the Senate Friday by a 31 to 4 vote after a floor amendment was added to make the school chief an appointee of an elected Board of Education.

The state superintendent currently is elected to a four-year term and the board members are appointed by the governor, subject to Senate confirmation.

The original Senate Bill 233 would have retained the appointment of board members by the governor.

Sullivan said he was voting for the change with mixed emotions because he feared election of the board would make it difficult to find qualified persons to run. He asserted, however, that the new plan would be "far superior" to the present system.

Sen. Francis M. Burke, D-Pikeville, who offered the floor amendment, said the measure now would give the people greater control over their school system. He said the people would be far more familiar with board members if they were elected.

Sullivan added that the constitutional amendment, if passed by the voters, would help provide for long-range planning of education in Kentucky.

Because the state superintendent now is unable to succeed himself, Sullivan said, no interest has been given to planning in the Education Department. The measure also would allow the superintendent to hold the position as long as he is doing a good job, he said.

The amendment would not become effective until 1976 because a new state superintendent also would be elected in 1971.

In other action, the Senate narrowly defeated a bill which would allow law students to serve a nine-month internship, rather than take the bar exam, to become licensed lawyers.

The bill, sponsored by Lexington Democrat C. Gibson Downing, would permit graduates of accredited law schools to serve the internship in a licensed law office before being granted a license by the Court of Appeals.

Downing said he thought the exam an archaic method to determine what a student has learned in law school.

After some friendly debate, the measure, SB 379, was defeated by a 17-21 vote.

The Senate also returned to committee a bill that would prevent chiropractors from entering practice in Kentucky without graduating from an accredited professional school.

Sen. Georgia M. Davis, D-Louisville, chairman of the Senate Health and Welfare Committee, made the motion to recommit the measure, saying its purpose was the outlawing of chiropractic doctors.

With only five days of the legislative session remaining, the bill probably will die in the committee. It was backed by the Kentucky Medical Association.

Here's How Major Bills Stand In Assembly

FRANKFORT, Ky.

The status of major legislation in the General Assembly at the start of the last week of the 1970 session was as follows:

— The Senate bill authored by Sen. William L. Sullivan, D-Henderson, to set up a constitutional amendment for 1971 has passed the Senate and been sent to the House.

— The amendment would provide for election of a state Board of Education with power to appoint a superintendent of public instruction.

— The Senate Sunday-closing bill has had two readings in the House and will come up for a vote early this week.

— The teacher's professional negotiation bill has passed the House and been sent to the Senate. Meanwhile, the Senate version, identical to the House bill, has been tabled indefinitely.

— A Senate bill that would allow a voter referendum on special county improvement projects in Jefferson County has been sent back to the Senate floor by the Senate Counties and Special Districts Committee with amendments and should come up for a vote early in the week.

— A Senate bill that would allow student lawyers to serve a nine-month internship instead of taking the state bar examination has been defeated in the Senate.

— A Senate bill requiring new chiropractic doctors to be graduates of accredited educational institutions has been sent back to the Senate Health and Welfare Committee for further study.

— The Senate has sent a resolution calling for a long-range study of education in Kentucky to the House.

$348 Million In Construction Told By South Central Bell

South Central Bell Telephone Co. spent nearly a million dollars a day on its construction program in 1969.

Releasing the firm's 1969 annual report, South Central Bell President W. C. Bauer said the company last year "accomplished more in many respects than ever before."

"Our construction program was larger than in any previous year," he said, "totaling $348 million."

"We served more customers and handled more calls than ever before," Bauer said. The company has more than six million telephones in service.

South Central Bell, he said, had a total investment in telephone plants of $2.8 billion at the end of 1969. The company serves Alabama, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Tennessee with headquarters in Birmingham.

Long distance messages rose 13.2 per cent during 1969—with 340 million calls completed during the year. The number of local telephone calls, on a companywide basis, increased by more than six per cent over 1968, Bauer added.

Direct Distant Dialing service was extended to 200,000 additional customers, he said. At year's end, 85 per cent of South Central Bell's main telephones had access to DDD, while more than 99 per cent can receive DDD calls, he added.

Tax payments totaled approximately $290 million, including $77.8 million which was collected from telephone customers and paid for sales and excise taxes on telephone service.

South Central Bell's nearly 44,000 employees earned more than $302 million in wages and salaries during the year, he said, making a substantial contribution to the region's economy.

The number of employees increased by 3,200 during the year, he said.

Mrs. Neal, 98, Fulton Native, Dies In Texas

FULTON, Ky. — Mrs. Elizabeth Mitchell Neal, a native of the Walnut Grove community near Fulton, and long-time Houston, Texas philanthropist, died last Saturday in her apartment in the Warwick Hotel in Houston. She was 98.

Mrs. Neal, whose husband founded the Maxwell House Coffee Company, was born and reared near Fulton in the Walnut Grove community. Her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell, members of a pioneer West Tennessee family. Mr. Mitchell was a prominent farmer and landowner. She was a niece of the late Dr. George L. Major, well known Fulton physician and Mrs. Maggie Randle of Hickman.

It's about time: For another warning about auto thefts, which continue in amazingly large numbers.

The larger share of thefts is by youngsters, particularly in suburban areas... they develop entirely too often when adults carelessly leave cars unlocked, often with keys in the ignition.

Lock your car every time you park it, and pocket the key... keep your car in a garage at home, not in the street or driveway... and if someone does steal your car and is caught, make sure there is prosecution.

ALARM FOR JOGGERS: Jogging enthusiasts were brought up short recently... Dr. Harry J. Johnson says the fadism surrounding jogging has obscured the one serious consequence— from backache and heel bruises to heart attacks—attributable to this form of exercise. Dr. Johnson, chairman of the medical board of the Life Extension Institute, New York, polled 30 heart specialists; all but one were against jogging for "sedentary men over 50."

There were six chorus girls, five of whom married millionaires. The sixth married a poor musician. And just to show you the queer twist of fate, the girl who married the poor musician turned out to be the only one who was unhappy.

Livestock Market To Open Again

MAYFIELD, Ky. — Mayfield Livestock and Sales Co. will reopen Monday after being closed for 30 days by the U.S. Department of Agriculture for violating weighing and record-keeping requirements.

The announcement was made Saturday by Kenneth Burgess and Roscoe Burgess, owners and operators of the livestock market.

The suspension, granted under provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act, was originally set to start May 21, 1969.

However, a stay order was issued after the operators appealed to the federal court of appeals which dismissed the case.

As a result of the dismissal the livestock market was ordered to shut down operations beginning Feb. 13, through Friday.

During that period, the company was not allowed to operate as registered livestock dealers or a market agency.

The livestock market draws livestock from Western Kentucky, Western Tennessee and portions of Missouri.

THOSE RECKLESS PEDESTRIANS: Allstate accident reports yield some of the strangest statements. One said, "I knocked over a man. The man admitted it was his fault since he had been run over before." Another put it this way: "A pedestrian hit me and went under my car." — Frank Terrell, Santa Ana.

Area Man Wounded In Vietnam

FULTON, Ky., Pfc. James Ronnie Priest, son of James E. Priest of Kenton, Tenn., was "slightly wounded" by grenade fragments in action in Vietnam Sunday. Pfc. Priest is the grandson of Mrs. Mary Wagster of South Fulton.

He was hit in the right knee and right leg while on a combat operation when a hostile force was encountered, according to a telegram from Major General Kenneth G. Wickham.

According to the telegram which emphasized that Pfc. Priest was not seriously wounded, he was treated and hospitalized in South Vietnam.

Facelift For Contemporary Readers

New Bible Comes Out Monday

NEW YORK — The Holy Bible has had another facelift. A new translation, rendered in 20th-century English with hopes it will appeal to young people, comes out Monday.

The New English Bible—NEB—took British scholars 26 years to complete. Unlike the popular Revised Standard Version (RSV)—a revision of the King James Bible, the NEB is a fresh translation of the Greek, Hebrew and Aramaic texts.

The translators say the result is up-to-date in scholarship and free of the confusions wrought by 17th-century diction without sacrificing poetic beauty. Lines run the width of the page for easier reading.

"We aim at a version which shall be as intelligible to contemporary readers as the original version was to its first readers," said Dr. C. H. Dodd, a New Testament scholar and director of the translation work.

The New Testament only of the NEB was published in 1961 and seven million copies have been sold around the world, including 2.7 million in the United States.

Although the NEB was not designed to be read from the pulpit, Dodd added, "It is to be hoped that, at least occasionally, it may produce arresting and memorable renderings. It should have sufficient dignity to be read aloud."

Judge for yourself, in the NEB Lord's Prayer, for instance: "Forgive us the wrong we have done. "as we have forgiven those who have wronged us."

"And do not bring us to the test, "but save us from the evil one."

Jeremiah 5:28 reads in the King James: "They are waxen fat, they shine, yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked."

The NEB translates the line: "They grow rich and grand, "bloating and rancorous; "their thoughts are all of evil."

The 23rd Psalm in the NEB translation starts: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall want nothing."

"He makes me lie down in green pastures, "and leads me besides the waters of peace; "he renews life within me,

"and for His name's sake guides me in the right path. "Even though I walk through a valley dark as death "I fear no evil..."

In the King James Bible, the sixth Beatitude, reads: "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled. In the NEB, that becomes, "How blest are those who hunger and thirst to see right prevail; they shall be satisfied."

To reconcile the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," with other Biblical admonitions to put to death kidnappers, witches, persons who practice bestiality and sacrifices to false gods, and the life, the NEB version becomes:

"You shall not commit murder."

1040 U.S. Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q I kept a record of my earnings and withholdings for the year and am all set to file my return. Do I have to wait until I get my W-2?

A Yes, one copy of all W-2's must be attached to your tax return when you send it in. Processing of the returns and refunds are delayed if this is not done. You should receive your W-2 no later than February 2.

Note that this year, the W-2 should be stapled to the back of Form 1040 rather than the front.

Q Is there any change in who has to file a return for 1969?

A Filing requirements for 1969 Federal income tax returns are unchanged from last year.

To summarize them, a return must be filed by every person under 65 who had gross income of $600 or more for the year. For those 65 or older on the last day of tax year, a return does not have to be filed until gross income reaches $1,200.

Also, anyone who has net earnings of $400 or more from self-employment, is required to file a return and pay self-employment tax.

Filing requirements also apply to minors. A parent or guardian should file a return on behalf of a child who has gross income of $600 or more during the tax year. In every case, you must file a return to get any refund due.

Q I'm a senior at college and I'm due a tax refund on some part-time work I did. Can I claim my own exemption without causing my father to lose the exemption he claims for me?

A Yes, if you were a full-time student during some part of five months of the year, you can claim your own exemption and your father will not lose you as an exemption, so long as the necessary dependency tests are met. In this situation, the same exemption can be claimed on two returns, yours and your parent's.

Q What taxes can I deduct?

A If you itemize deductions, state and local income, sales, gasoline, personal property and real estate taxes may be deducted. These should be listed on Schedule A Itemized Deductions, and attached to your Form 1040.

Those who itemize will find that using the new Schedule A provides more room to list things such as medical expenses and charitable contributions than was available on the back of the old Form 1040.

Q Where can I get a copy of your tax guide?

A A copy of Your Federal Income Tax 1970 edition may be purchased from most IRS offices for 60 cents. You may also obtain this publication by using the order form on the inside cover of the 1040

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

On February 20, William Raspberry, the noted black journalist of The Washington Post, wrote a column that could help to bring us all to our senses on the subject of compulsory busing of school children. In that column, he referred to the court case which led to the famous 1954 Supreme Court decision on school desegregation.

He said, "... the aim of the suit was not so much integrated education but better education. Integration was simply a means to an end."

He continued, "Much of the confusion today stems from the fact that the means has now become an end in itself. Suits are being brought for integration, boundaries are being redrawn, busing is being instituted—not to improve education but to integrate classrooms."

Apparently, many people need to be reminded of this original purpose, for it seems that many have been so concerned with integrating the schools that they have been quite willing to sacrifice the quality of black and white children's education merely to meet an arbitrary racial quota.

Raspberry continued, "Then the hostage theory was applied. ... The well-to-do parents would seem to be that their children got a good education. All the poor parents had to do was see to it that their children were in the same classroom. That was the theory."

However, he observed that this theory has not been successful when put into practice. "After 16 years, we should have learned that the hostage theory doesn't work. This is not to suggest that integration is bad but that it must become a secondary consideration."

"Busing makes some sense (as a temporary measure) when its purpose is to transport children from neighborhoods with overcrowded classrooms to schools where there is space to spare."

"It works to a limited degree when it involves children whose parents want them bused across town for specific reason."

"But it has accomplished nothing useful when it has meant transporting large numbers of reluctant youngsters to schools they'd rather not attend."

Raspberry concluded, "The notion will win me the embarrassing support of segregationist bigots, but isn't it about time we started concentrating on educating children where they are?"

Mr. Raspberry, who is nobody's Uncle Tom, has seen the forest in spite of the trees. So has the liberal Senator Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut. Others in the Congress have also recently begun to show signs of awakening. Perhaps the nation is beginning to recognize that freedom of choice is not so bad after all, and that compulsory busing of our children achieves nothing but resentment from all sides.

THE WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE

If the recommendations of the recent White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health are acted upon, all of us are going to learn a great deal more about nutrition. And hopefully, this will result in Americans eating better.

There are two levels to the problems of nutrition in the United States. On one hand, there are adults and children among us who simply are not getting enough to eat. On the other, there are people—even people of affluence—who eat poorly and suffer from forms of malnutrition.

The Immediate Problem
Those not getting enough to eat are suffering because they are too poor to buy an adequate diet and our public food assistance programs are not reaching everyone in need. Nor are these programs necessarily doing an adequate job even with those poor people they are reaching.

Thus there is the immediate problem of correcting a situation in which people are going to bed hungry.

Long Range
But the long range problem concerns people who do have the money to purchase a proper diet. These people seem to need two things—sufficient knowledge of what constitutes a truly good diet, and the motivation to use the knowledge effectively. Even rich people can suffer malnutrition if they persist in eating a poor diet. And this includes those persons who eat too much and weigh too much. Overnutrition, undernutrition, and the wrong balance of needed nutrients—all these conditions affect your health.

Because we are a nation of plenty but still have a long way to go in using our foods to best advantage, the more than 3,000 experts who gathered in December at the White House Conference submitted to the President a 614-page report containing hundreds of recommendations.

In the field of nutrition education, the recommendations concerned all avenues of communication—school, pre-school, and the use of public media to improve the quality of nutrition teaching and community education. The subject of nutrition is so important that the Conference suggested "an officer at sub-cabinet level head nutrition activities of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and that coordinating nutrition activity be continued in the Executive Office of the President."

Must Eat Sensibly
So I'm hopeful that all of us will take nutrition more seriously. Use of our food is probably the most vital of our challenges in taking full advantage of the natural resources of our country. It is high time for us to eat sensibly. And with the enormous increase in numbers and kinds of food products that invite our attention on the supermarket shelves, the choice of the right combinations of foods get more interesting, but at the same time, more difficult. We will, as stated need more nutrition education for everyone.

Murray Hospital's Coronary Unit Cutting Heart Deaths

MURRAY, Ky.

The from 40 to 60 per cent to 15 to 20 per cent, and this is significant. Dr. Huffman, who came to Murray from the University of Kentucky last August when Dr. Charles Mercer moved to Memphis, gave Dr. Mercer much of the credit for the establishment of the new intensive coronary care unit at the local hospital. The two-bed unit, he said, has never been vacant in the short time it has been in operation.

"When you have your heart attack," he said, "the most dangerous period is the first 72 hours. If you can survive these first 72 hours, you have a good chance of surviving for the next several years."

"It is during this critical 72-hour period that we have been able to reduce the mortality from heart attacks," he continued.

"Before primary coronary care unit policies were established and the units themselves were opened, the mortality rate from heart attacks was something like 40 to 60 per cent of those patients who reached the hospital," he said, adding that up to 60 to 70 per cent of the people who suffer heart attacks never reach the hospital.

"We must get them to the hospital and into the coronary care unit fast," he added. "Once this has been done, we have been able to reduce the mortality

Young Alcoholics Lonely, Frustrated

CANBERRA — Young alcoholics present a picture of human beings in despair, Australian researchers report. A study of alcoholics under 30 in Australia showed that these people suffer from loneliness, poverty, frustration and broken homes. Twenty-eight of 50 fathers of young alcoholics were alcoholics themselves.

U.S. Fund For Bridge Is Sought

CINCINNATI — Cincinnati and Covington, Ky. were a step closer today to a replacement for the Chesapeake & Ohio bridge over the Ohio River with an application for federal funds on file with the U.S. Coast Guard district office in St. Louis, Mo.

The Kentucky Highway Department made the formal application to the federal government for half the $7.5 million needed for the new bridge. The old one was ordered closed by Kentucky in November, 1968, because it was ruled unsafe.

Under the terms of the two-state agreement, Kentucky will pay 55 per cent of the remaining costs and Ohio will pay 45 per cent.

Engineers estimated it will take 18 months to complete the structure once construction is begun. Plans call for the new bridge to carry three lanes of traffic. The center lane will be reversible to accommodate rush hour traffic.

Fish-Tag Rewards 50 Cents To $5

BOSTON—The finder of a fish tagged by the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries usually receives a reward for reporting his catch and returning the tag. The amounts vary from 50 cents for species such as herring to as much as $5 for sailfin, marlin or tuna.

ding that the nurses' station is so located that both patients and both cardiac monitors can be watched at the same time.

"It used to be very current and still is to some degree very popular to make a beeline for Memphis, Nashville or someplace if you have a serious medical problem, and this still may be true," he said.

"But with heart disease, hardening of the arteries and in cases of acute heart attacks, you do not have that time. The time it takes to get from here to Nashville, Memphis or even Paducah could mean the difference between life and death. You won't have that time," Dr. Huffman said.

State Returns Part Of Taxes On Motor Fuel

The State of Tennessee in fiscal 1969 returned a total of $1-

most a half-million dollars to Obion County and its municipalities from state motor fuel taxes, the Volunteer State Oil Committee has announced.

Bill Haga, executive director of the trade association, said Tennessee collected $145,136,463 in such gasoline taxes during the 1969 fiscal year and returned $51,498,132 to local governments. According to Mr. Haga, Obion County received $360,439 while the remainder of the money was distributed in the following manner: Union City, $75,932; South Fulton, $22,319; Obion, $10,370; Troy, $5,500; Kenton, $9,098
